Cookies and Cocoa Open House

Friday December 12, 2008, 3:30 - 5:00

You are invited to come join in the fun, refreshments, and music and take part in the all new "Best decked out classroom contest". This year the teachers are competing in a room decorating event. The parents will be given ballots at the Open house and will judge on the following, the most creative, best theme and overall best decked out. This is the first year we are trying this event so we hope that it is really fun for everyone!
